Civic Center Community Training Day Offers Citizens Skills to Save Lives

Chatham County, GA (July 30, 2018) – Chatham Emergency Management Agency (CEMA) is partnering with the Regional Trauma Commission, the Georgia Emergency Management Agency, and the City of Savannah, to provide an afternoon of life-saving training to citizens. Two courses will be offered: Stop the Bleed, and Until Help Arrives. Citizens can choose to participate in one or both of these courses and can register at www.chathamemergency.org/events/

What: Civic Center Community Training Day

When:	Until Help Arrives	Stop the Bleed	Joint Practical Session
	1:00-2:15 PM	2:30-3:30 PM	3:30-4:30 PM
	Citizens will learn simple actions that can help save lives, such as reporting information, comforting those injured, and providing aid.	This national program and statewide initiative prepares community members to save lives in bleeding emergencies. Participants will learn how to properly judge and treat bleeding until professional responders arrive.

Where: Civic Center Arena
301 W Oglethorpe Ave, Savannah, GA 31401
