Chatham County Police Investigating Morning Shooting

Chatham County, GA (February 11, 2019) – Chatham County Police are investigating a shooting that left one woman injured early this morning.

Witnesses told detectives the 23-year-old victim was walking with a friend along Chevis Road just after 5 a.m. when she was shot. The victim was transported to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries.

Detectives believe the shooting is an isolated incident. Detectives do not think this is a random shooting, and believe the suspect is known to the parties involved.
