Chatham County Police Department Asking for Community's Input as They Plan Future of Department

Chatham County, GA (May 8, 2019) –The Chatham County Police Department is inviting business and community members to brainstorm with them about its future and how it serves its citizens.

Chatham County Police have just kicked off a strategic planning process that will design the roadmap for the future of the department. A key part of this initiative is getting input and ideas from the people it serves.

“This department is built on a philosophy of community policing, so we need to hear from business owners and residents about what they want and expect from their police department,” said Chatham County Police Chief Jeff Hadley. “These brainstorming sessions are a great opportunity for people to tell us what their priorities are, and we will use that feedback to shape our work as a department moving forward.”

The meetings will be held Tuesday, May 14th at the Southwest Chatham Library located at 14907 Abercorn Street next to Savannah Mall. A session focusing on the needs of the business community will be held from 10:30 a.m. until noon. A session for residents will be held there from 5:30 p.m. until 7:00 p.m.
