Chatham County Police End Search for Reported Downed Plane

Chatham County, GA (September 11, 2018) – The Chatham County Police Marine Patrol and the Chatham County Mosquito Control helicopter have ended their search for a plane reported down by a citizen Monday night.

Around 7:30 p.m. on September 10, a citizen called 9-1-1 and reported a possible downed plane near Butterbean Beach. Marine and air patrols were dispatched and searched the area for several hours without locating an aircraft, debris, or any sign of a crash. The search was suspended overnight, and resumed early this morning. Again, no sign of a crash was found, and the search was called off this afternoon.
