CNT Arrests Owner of Flacos Tacos

CHATHAM COUNTY, Georgia (May 10, 2019): A local business owner has been arrested on weapon and drug charges.

Shortly after 9:00 p.m. on March 7, 2018, 33-year-old Adolfo Mitchell, also known as Flaco, was stopped on Interstate 16 by the Georgia State Patrol. The traffic stop evolved into a search of the vehicle that resulted in the seizure of multiple ounces of marijuana and two firearms. Mitchell was arrested on a number of charges to include (2cts) Possession of a Firearm by a Convicted Felon, Possession of Marijuana, and Driving under the Influence. CNT assisted with the investigation and was present during the traffic stop. A juvenile was also in the vehicle at the time of the incident.

On April 25, 2019, the Chatham County Grand Jury returned a True Bill on the charges Mitchell was originally arrested on in addition to two additional charges; Using a Minor for an Illicit Transaction and (2cts) Furnishing a Pistol to a Minor. Mitchell was re-arrested on the new charges on May 1, 2019, at Flacos Tacos restaurant in Richmond Hill and booked into the Chatham County Detention Center. Mitchell was granted an $8,500 bond this morning by Chatham County Superior Court Judge, Honorable James Bass.

Mitchell is the owner of Flacos Tacos, which has multiple locations throughout Chatham County and at least one location in Bryan County.

This is an ongoing investigation and additional charges and arrests are expected.
